What's New in the?

FileMaker Plugin is a powerful library of over 3300 functions and objects that makes it possible to extend FileMaker Pro by enabling users to interact with a variety of devices, information and services. It also makes it possible to extract specific data from text files, create a connection with remote services, decompress different types of files or search for a USB drive on a network. MBS FileMaker plugin allows users to write their own applications that rely on the following facilities: * Accessing a telephone API (TAPI) to enhance FileMaker Pro's accessibility. * Transferring data to SQL databases, including MySQL, SQL Server, PostgreSQL or SQLite. * Decompressing different types of file (e.g. PDFs, JPGs, ZIPs, etc.). * Forcing the software to understand and dynamically react to all string formats - as required by the plethora of potential string formats. In addition, MBS FileMaker plugin is available in two languages, allowing users to follow the development of the library, thus allowing them to get the most from it. MBS FileMaker plugin interfaces with your database, but it's not a database. It doesn't impose any constraints on your database design; it is compatible with existing designs. Features: * Extract data from the following types of files: PDF - Decompresses any PDF file and provides its source. JPG - Decompresses the source of any JPG image file. Zip - Decompresses the ZIP archive and the directory it is contained in. XML - Explores the contents of an XML file. MHTML - Identifies the contents of an MHTML file.
