KEYMACRO is a program to control your program with special keys on a keyboard No installation required. Your programs do not have to be equipped with special keys. You can control any program you like, not only games. KeyMACRO is written in pure Pascal. KeyMACRO is extremely stable, because it can run even without access to any file. This way it cannot corrupt or tamper with your programs. Special keys on a keyboard can be used to control programs (by typing them in). Programs and games can be controlled by a keyboard (via a gamepad or keyboard). Special keys can be used to open programs. Programs can be controlled with special keys from any keyboard. KeyMACRO can be started from the command line, and can be controlled by a command line switch. You can use any command line switch with KeyMACRO, not only the ones mentioned in the description. Examples: Run "KeyMACRO Game" on the command line to start Game with special keys. Run "KeyMACRO DMD" on the command line to run the Linux version of dmd. Run "KeyMACRO IRC" on the command line to start an IRC client. ... KeyMACRO has been developed to run on Linux, Windows (32 bit and 64 bit) and DOS. KeyMACRO is freeware, and requires no payment. KeyMACRO was designed with the user in mind, so it can be customized in many ways. KeyMACRO is a 32 bit application for Windows. KeyMACRO has been tested with the following systems: Win 98 Win 2000 Win XP Win Vista Win 7 Win 8 Win 10 KeyMACRO is not compatible with the following systems: Win ME Win ME/XP Win ME/Vista ... KeyMACRO was developed in "pure pascal" in small parts, and never tested with any other language, e.g. C, so it is assumed that it is written correctly, and this is not a guarantee, of course. KeyMACRO is copyrighted software, however, it can be copied and distributed freely. This copyright does not allow you to distribute modified versions of KeyMACRO, or to distribute modified versions of programs controlled by KeyMACRO, or to sell modified versions of KeyMACRO or modified versions of programs controlled by KeyMACRO. You 77a5ca646e IRControl is a program for Windows which allows you to use remote controls from your TV and stereo with your computer. It can control your PC and its programs such as your webbrowser, Windows Media Player, powerbutton etc. IRControl has been developed for security purposes and can deactivate a PC if it detects other devices in the same room. The program can also deactivate your Windows if it detects an intruder trying to log in to your computer. IRControl can be configured for individual use or used for a group of PCs. If you are having a hard time to find a remote control for your TV or stereo, you should try IRControl.
