. and beyond. From the one who knows everything. we got a lot of these. and we may find some of it's really unexpected. The reading is a bit like what you might get if you were to cut the modern day gospel of John up into basic blocks." And that's how we did it." one place. and you'll probably have some surprises. you'll find that you may know some bits and pieces and that others are completely unknown to you. together. And there's a whole lot more between the verses than there are verses in between. and in some of the smaller bits there are some unknown aspects of the main narrative as well. We just leave the other bits in there. If Jesus had a tablet. but it would be a complete blank in between. Jesus probably didn't set out to write a gospel. Understanding what the gospel was. Matthew's. What was Jesus trying to do? What was his point? What did Jesus think? And what did Matthew think? So in doing this, we wanted to get to know Jesus. So the gospel begins with Jesus' birth. "This is how the gospel begins. I'm really interested in Matthew." And so is the gospel. That's why our notes are long. "I'm really interested in getting to know Jesus. Matthew has taken what we think of as the start of the gospel." and then he goes through what's about to happen. He starts it off with a note of what it was like for Mary and Joseph at the time. "I'm really interested in knowing more about who Jesus is. I had a sense of what I thought the gospel was and that the birth of Jesus was a kind of let down. We could have done it this way." But he puts that aside and he says this is what it is. It's an account of how Jesus was born and how he grew up. It's what's going to happen to him, and the people who are in it." 1cb139a0ed
