Sony has confirmed that UFC star Anderson Silva will fight Nate Marquardt at UFC 108. Silva, 38, will be returning to the UFC for the first time in just over a year. The former UFC Light Heavyweight champion has been linked to the fight since November 2005, when rumours circulated that he would face Roy Nelson at UFC 74 in January 2006. The former champion has gone on to appear in two more UFC events, losing in a unanimous decision to Matt Hamill at UFC 91 and defeating Chris Leben by majority decision at UFC 92. He was due to fight Leben again at UFC 103, this time for the Light Heavyweight title. Leben pulled out of the bout just hours before the show and was replaced by Rashad Evans. Silva lost in a unanimous decision. Silva's return to the UFC means he joins a number of high-profile heavyweight fighters that will be competing for the first time at the Staples Center in California next month, including Fedor Emelianenko and Pedro Rizzo. Silva, 32, will fight Marquardt at UFC 108 on 1 July in the co-main event on the UFC's Versus pay-per-view. Marquardt, 41, is coming off a first-round knockout win over Sam Hoger. "Anderson is a powerful, technical, very accurate striker, who, at his best is arguably the greatest fighter of all time," said Marquardt on Tuesday. "He is a thoughtful, quiet, leader, not a typical fighter. He does not have to be in a hurry, he doesn't have to be the 'baddest dude on the planet'. If he is given the right tools to do what he does, he will be unstoppable, like he always has been. "Anderson's fans have been clamouring for him to return to the UFC for a long time. Now, he is here. I was a big fan of Anderson's and his play in the UFC while he was still the Light Heavyweight champion. He has a lot to offer and I am excited to battle him in the Octagon. Anderson vs Silva is going to be a fight to remember for all involved!" The announced press conference is scheduled for Wednesday in Los Angeles. // Copyright 2010 The Go Authors. Asian Football Confederation The Asian Football Confederation (AFC), also known as Asia Football Federation or simply as the Asian Football Confederation, is the governing body of football (soccer) in Asia. It is headquartered in Seoul, South Korea. The AFC's current president is Sheikh Salman bin Ebrahim Al Khalifa of Bahrain, who assumed the office on 19 July 2014 and was succeeded by Sheikh Salman on 18 July 2019. The current chairman of the committee is Sheikh Salman bin Ebrahim Al Khalifa. History Until the 1980s, Asian football was governed by the Asia Minor Football Federation which was founded in 1951. At its very first meeting in July 1951 in Ankara, the Asia Minor Football Federation came into existence following the dissolution of the Asia Minor Football League which had organised football events for a short period between 1946 and 1951. The Asia Minor Football Federation was formed by representatives from five countries, Turkey, Iran, Iraq, Egypt and Syria, all of them members of the Arab Federation for Football which was renamed the Arab Federation for Association Football (AFAB). In 1971 the Asian Football Confederation was created, and became one of the founding members of the confederation. The Asian Football Confederation, in agreement with the AFAB, has been the governing body of Asian football since then. The AFC was the first confederation in football that was created on an Asian basis. In 1978 the AFC decided to organise a tournament in the Middle East, and in the same year the AFC awarded its first cup in the Asian Cup to Saudi Arabia. In the mid-1980s, the AFC organised the FIFA World Youth Championship for the first time. The tournament was awarded to Europe in 2003. A new corporate image was introduced in the 1990s and this is what we see nowadays. The South Korea national team that won a gold medal at the 2002 FIFA World Cup is an example of its current success. In fact, the AFC has produced more champions and finalists of the FIFA World Cup than any other confederation in the world. The biggest achievement for the AFC was when they hosted the final of the 1994 FIFA World Cup in the South Korea capital of Seoul. The event has been recorded as a historical moment in the history of world football, but unfortunately, other challenges have followed and the AFC has a mediocre record in the run up to the tournament. The Asian Football Confederation is responsible for the Asian Cup, the AFC Champions League, and the AFC Super Cup. Since the creation of FIFA in 1904
