SpamAssassin is a mail filtering application designed to detect and eliminate unwanted messages from the in-box. The program is mainly used to mark and automatically discard spam messages, but it can also be used to filter out legitimate email messages that are likely to contain undesirable content. SpamAssassin is free and open source, and it can be downloaded from the official website. The installer includes all the necessary components needed to run the program including the command line interface and web interface. You can also download and install the full version of the program from the official website to use the full version of SpamAssassin. The spamfilter can be used to mark messages that are likely spam, based on a number of rules. It can also mark emails that are no longer spam and clean up the spam folder. SpamAssassin can also be used to detect and mark malicious emails that may include attachments. However, it won't protect you from accessing the attachment because it is not possible to scan the attachment itself.

The program is easy to use and can be set to automatically mark the emails that match the requirements and block them. Like other email filtering programs, SpamAssassin can also blacklist or whitelist certain domains, IP addresses, and IP ranges. The program allows you to specify an email address and allow SpamAssassin to monitor all the email messages that are sent to the provided email address. If you want to add an email address to the whitelist, you have to enter the details manually and only that email address will receive the emails from the specified email address. SpamAssassin Features: Remove viruses and malicious emails Block email messages with unwanted attachments

Provide safe email conversations by tagging the emails Use our advanced SpamAssassin rulebase to block spammers Mask IP addresses and protect against distributed denial of service (DDoS) attacks Lists of IP addresses and domain names that trigger spam Skip the unwanted emails and attachments by labeling them as spam The software can be set to automatically identify the spam messages Use our spam filtering engine to discard spam messages Block email addresses that send spam The email from the blocked addresses will also be marked as spam Scan and blacklist emails and IP addresses that are used by spammers The blacklisted emails will be marked as spam and blocked The spam filter will notify you if the emails from a specific email b7e8fdf5c8
